

NEW YORK CITY / WASHINGTON DC: March 19, 2020

Healthwirefm releases the mind-opening original series Homeostasis, featuring Ken Kobayashi's ancient Japanese medical treatments with a soundtrack by Moby.

Homeostasis shares a collective of acroamatic holistic practices used by the Kobayashi family of Japan for over 350 years. This family has a long-standing mission to provide balance and harmony to the body, mind, and spirit.

Ken Kobayashi shares his expertise as a doctor of philosophy embarking on a guided journey which unfolds the Kobayashi Technique. This regimen of 7 elements manipulates the energy manifesting within body and nature to treat illness, improve whole-body wellbeing, and reach a state of homeostasis.

Kobayashi's profound practices and teachings have changed the lives of many, including Healthwirefm's founder Martine Dubin, and cured the chronically ill. He wishes to share his philosophies on regulating imbalances within your life, upholding the Kobayashi family tradition and bettering our society's wellness.

ABOUT KEN KOBAYASHI: Ken Kobayashi is a doctor of oriental medicine and philosophy who is widely known for his thriving practice of holistic healing, Honzokaku Natural Remedies Center located in New York City. Ken Kobayashi's family has been practicing such healing practices for over 350+ years in Japan.

ABOUT HEALTHWIREFM: Healthwirefm, awarded the 2019 Best Wellbeing-Focused Digital TV Network, streams shows, movies, lectures, and practices dedicated to a full and dynamic lifestyle. Healthwirefm has viewers tuning in from every country in the world, while also syndicating to Amazon Prime, and the Healthwirefm channel in the Cleveland Clinic.

ABOUT MARTINE DUBIN: Listed as one of the 100 Top Creatives Making a Difference, and a pioneer for women in tech, Martine Dubin founded Newswirefm and Healthwirefm, and is creative director behind all original series for both networks. She has also produced with The Zanuck Company, Lincoln Center, Burda Media's DLD, Discovery Communications' John Hendricks, NATO, and Ashoka.

ABOUT MOBY: Moby has sold 20+ million albums, produced music for artists including David Bowie, Daft Punk, Britney Spears, Public Enemy, Guns N Roses, Metallica, and produced soundtracks including for the Jason Bourne series, James Bond's Tomorrow Never Dies.

Press: Taylor Zentz
Chief PR and Marketing Manager | taylor@newswire.fm